In case of jungle fuel, the kinds, such as jallee, mugalle, gorve, etc., should be enumerated. Only hard wood will be accepted and soft wood rejected.

The wood must be at the risk of the contractor until it is stacked, approved, measured and accepted by the Executive Engineer or his representatives.

When stacks are taken over, the contractor or his representative must be present during the measurement and must sign the record of the measurement made by the Executive Engineer or his representative in token of his agreement to the correctness thereof.

The quantity required is 5,000 tons, of which 1,600 tons should be delivered before the 31st December 1903 and the remainder at the rate of about 400 tons per month from 1st January 1904.

Payments will be made monthly for all wood taken over by the Executive Engineer in charge, a reserve of 5 per cent being, however, withheld on all bills as a guarantee for the fulfilment of the contract.

Should the contractor fail to deliver the wood as above stated, he will be liable to a fine of Rs. 2 per ton for each ton his delivery may be short of the abovementioned quantity, or to cancelment of his contract, or both, with loss of security deposit and of full amount of reserve withheld as guarantee fund.
